Home Small Groups

Small group connections provide the life line for Christians as they work on applying Christian principles to daily living. Most small groups meet on a regular schedule – some weekly, some bi-weekly, some monthly – to encourage one another and develop close Christian friendships. The groups usually have ten to twelve members that have come together either because of age or life circumstance similarities, or a convenient location.

Some of the current small groups have room for additional members, but we will launch new groups in November and March. If you are interested in joining an existing group, or being a part of a new group, please contact us to help connect you with a group.

If you are interested in starting a group, there is a brief training required for the leaders that will help prepare and equip you for leading this important ministry. Curriculum materials are available at church, or we can assist you in selecting something of interest to your group.

Community Small Groups

The church has several special interest groups that meet on a more limited basis for fellowship. There are two active Women's Circles (first Tuesday evening, first Wednesday morning) that meet monthly for fellowship and to provide service projects. A Coffee Talk group for women meets monthly at area restaurants for food and fellowship. A group of women meet on the third Friday to share scrapbooking ideas. Men meet the second Saturday for a fellowship breakfast. Several men who enjoy outdoor activities meet the third Monday of the month for fellowship. Our Forever Young group of seniors meets on the third Thursday of the month for food and fellowship. The Adopted in Christ group meets regularly to provide resources and support for couples who have adopted children. It is also open for couples considering adoption as an option. A support group for blended families and divorce recovery are currently being organized.
